Organization sponsored houses must be at full occupancy. If you are assigned to an organization sponsored house in which a vacancy occurs, you and the other remaining residents have 3 options:

- A. The current residents may fill the vacancy with an eligible new resident within 1 month;
- B. The current residents may equally split the housing costs of any vacant spaces;
- C. Current residents may work with the Office of Residential Life to coordinate alternative living arrangements.

If the remaining residents are unable to agree to one of these options, or if the Office of Residential Life is unable to coordinate alternate living arrangements, the University may elect the second option and charge your portion of the costs of any open spaces to your student account. This policy only applies to organization sponsored houses.

4. Housing Assignments:

Subject to the terms and conditions herein, this contract entitles you to University housing for the term of the contract. Your specific housing location and roommate(s) will be assigned by the University, and nothing in this contract entitles you to occupancy of a specific room or apartment or in a specific building or house. The University will attempt to honor your preferences, and the University does not guarantee the assignment to a particular facility, roommate, or other requested options, except that you will not be assigned to live with a person of a different gender, unless you inform the University that you will do so. Unless an exception is approved by the Director of Residential Life, occupants of residence hall rooms will be single gender, with the exception of Manor Hall, the LGBTQ+ community in Drew Hall, or the Campus Apartments.

If you require a service or emotional support animal, please contact the Disability Resources Office for additional information and to find out proper procedures for getting a support animal approved to live with you in the residence halls. Emotional support animals must be approved prior to being brought into the residential facilities.

Reassignments

The University reserves the right to assign or reassign you to any available space within University housing, even if it is not your preference, for any lawful reason, including, but not limited to, change in room designation, safety and security, consolidation, or interests of the community and other residents. In the event that you are reassigned to an alternative housing space, the University will attempt to coordinate your move but reserves the right to move or store your personal property and belongings in an emergency situation. If a vacancy occurs in a double, triple or quad room, or a house or apartment, the University may assign another resident to that space, or reassign remaining residents to another space, at any time. You may submit a request to the University's Office of Residential Life to be reassigned to different housing. The University is not required to honor any reassignment requests and may accept or decline such requests with their own discretion.

If the university cancels this contract you will receive written notification by email and/or by letter which will provide a date by which you must vacate University housing, and you agree to vacate your housing by such date. In the case of a serious violation, or a reasonable belief that an imminent threat exists to safety, health or property, you may be required to vacate immediately. If you fail to vacate the property as directed, you may be evicted. In such an event, you agree to pay the University all costs and expenses incurred in the eviction, including attorney fees regardless of whether legal action is commenced.

If amounts have not yet come due under this contract, such as in the case of a payment plan, the University may accelerate these amounts and require that you pay them immediately.

8. Check-out:

Residents must vacate their rooms by the last day of the contract period. Upon vacating your housing, you must follow proper checkout procedures (i.e. clean your entire living space, turn in key(s)/access card, complete room/apartment condition report process, etc.) with the appropriate staff member when moving out of University housing. You must schedule your checkout appointment with the University at least 48-hours in advance, your room/apartment/house must be cleaned and your possessions removed by the time of your checkout appointment. If you do not check out in a timely manner or follow checkout procedures, you may be subjected to a $500 no-show fee. You are liable for any damage, modifications, or required excessive cleaning to your room/apartment/house or in any part of University housing. You will complete a room/apartment condition form as part of your checkout process. You agree to pay the cost of repair, replacement, or cleaning of any item or part of University housing that you damage, modify, remove or destroy, or for cleaning of any other missing items or damage to your room/apartment (reasonable wear and tear expected), unless the damage was caused by a University employee. This includes the cost of removing any items left by you. Replacement and repair costs include full, not depreciated, charges for new materials and labor. If a damaged item can feasibly be repaired, you will be charged the cost of repairing rather than replacing the item. All repairs/replacement work will be initiated and accomplished by the University.

If you have roommates, all residents of the room/apartment/house are jointly liable for such damages and/or any excessive cleaning required. In-room/apartment/house common areas, such as kitchens, bathrooms, and living rooms must be cleaned prior to any resident checking out. The costs of repairing, replacing, or cleaning damages to common areas, or items in common areas may be charged by the University to occupants of the floor/house/building or occupants of the surrounding area. Damage charges will be divided evenly unless the University determines who is responsible for the damages.

You are responsible for any damage caused by any guests.

You are responsible for removing your trash from the room/apartment/house to a designated dumpster site, and to maintain the room/apartment/house in a safe and sanitary condition reasonable to the University.

The University may make final room/apartment/house inspections after all residents have vacated and have completed the room/apartment/house condition report. Inspections can also be done during the academic year while the space is occupied. Additional damage charges may result from these final inspections. If you disagree with an assessed damage charge, you must notify the Office of Residential Life, in writing, within two-weeks of receiving notification of the charge, and the University will make a final decision. If you do not send such a notification, the charges will be considered final and binding and placed on your student account.

10. Utilities:

Hamline University will provide heat, water, electricity, local telephone service upon request, and trash removal services from the trash room of the building and laundry. House services vary by address.

11. Apartment/Room/House Entry by Hamline University Staff:

It is the University's policy to respect the privacy of its housing residents. Therefore, apartments/rooms/houses will not be entered by University personnel without an approved reason for doing so. When practical, you will be given advance notice of any room entry, but you may not receive advance notice in the case of an emergency or if we need to determine if some or all of the room(s) or living space(s) is occupied or vacated. Authorized personnel may enter your room:

- A. To perform requested (including any work order request from you), preventative, prescheduled, or emergency maintenance, improvements or repairs;
- B. To assess for any damages while the space is currently occupied, after a resident has vacated or within 30 days before the end of this contract's term;
- C. To investigate actual or suspected emergencies potentially endangering life, safety, health, imminent damages to facilities, or to enforce University policy, regulations or directives;
- D. To investigate suspected violations of University policy, regulations or directives;
- E. To conduct maintenance, safety, health, room occupancy checks and fire safety inspections;

Residential Life has designated Area Coordinators and Assistant Area Coordinator for the Residence Halls to assist you, and other University Staff, including all Residential Life professional and paraprofessional staff, who may perform functions of the Area Coordinator or Assistant Area Coordinator, should the need arise. The University has designated its General Counsel, who is located at 1536 Hewitt Avenue, MS-C1909, St. Paul, MN 55104, as its agent to accept service of process and legal notices.

13. Parking and Vehicle Registration:

Hamline University parking permits are the property of the University and are non-transferable and may not be sold. All students who bring a vehicle to campus are required to register their vehicle through Hamline Public Safety. Apartment students can apply to park in the Apartment Ramp or Apartment Surface Lot, but are not guaranteed a spot in either of these locations. Students living in the residence halls should contact Hamline Public Safety for parking information. You may register your vehicle and view Hamline's complete parking policy online at www.hamline.edu/public-safety/parking/ . Permits are required for everyone who parks in a campus lot. Vehicles parked in no-parking zones, reserved parking, visitor spots, loading zones, on sidewalks, or on the grass will be tagged and towed at the owner's expense. Call 651-523-2100, email parking@hamline.edu or visit www.hamline.edu/public-safety/parking/ if you have any questions about parking on campus.

14. Insurance and Liability:

The University's insurance does not cover your possessions or protect you from claims and liability from any damages that you may cause or that may occur from natural causes. The University strongly advises that you obtain personal (renter's) insurance against such eventualities.

Subject to the exception below, you agree to release the University and its agents, officers and employees from any and all liability for personal injury, death or property damage resulting in any way from the condition, maintenance, or operations of University Housing, or any other act or omission of the University, its agents or employees. You further agree that the University and its agents, officers and employees shall not be liable to you, or your guests for personal injury, damage, death or loss of personal property resulting from fire, smoke, rain, flood, environmental problems, water leaks, hail, ice, snow, lightning, wind, explosions, criminal acts, appliance malfunction, insects, rodents (or other pests), and interruption of utilities, or any other cause. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in this paragraph shall reduce or release liability for conduct by the University and/or its agents, officers and employees that constitutes greater than ordinary negligence (such as intentional, willful or wanton acts, or gross negligence).

15. Personal Property:

The University does not provide storage in University housing and all furnishings must remain in your assigned apartment/room/house unless written permission is obtained from the Office of Residential Life. You agree not to move any furnishings from common areas into your room. House and apartment residents may hang pictures and other personal items, but you must use a minimum number of small nails or other hardware. Nails may not be used on any doors. Residence hall residents may not use nails to hang items anywhere. Blue painters' tape and command hooks may be used to hang items, but you are responsible for removing any adhesive residue left on walls, doors, or floors. You are responsible for the cost of any repairs necessary to fix damage caused by hanging items on walls. You may not paint or make alterations to your room, apartment or house. Televisions cannot be mounted on walls and personal air conditioners cannot be mounted in dorm room windows.

16. Maintenance and Repair:

You agree to notify the University of any maintenance or repairs required to your room, house, or apartment. You are responsible for the cost of correcting obvious maintenance or repair situations that are not promptly reported to the University. This includes water damage to the room, house, or apartment due to water leaks from the roof, walls, foundation, water lines, and plumbing fixtures and connections of which you would be reasonably aware. If maintenance and repairs are necessary, you are responsible for providing a clear path to the location where maintenance or repair will be performed. The University reserves the right to enter your room without you being present if you have submitted a work order request or if you have been notified that maintenance or repairs will be completed. The University is not liable for any temporary failure or interruption in utilities or services, and you shall have no claim for damages or reduction of fees or room rates.

17. Keys:

Apartment, house, and room keys and access cards are the property of the University and may not be duplicated. You agree to immediately report the loss of any key or access card to the Office of Residential Life or another authorized University staff member including Hamline Public Safety. If your key is lost, you will be charged a $60.00 lock change fee. If your access card is lost, you will be charged a $25.00 fee. You may not share or lend your key or access card to any individual. You agree to pay the University a $40.00 fee and could be charged with a policy violation if you are in possession of another person's key.

All questions about access cards should be directed to Hamline Public Safety at security@hamline.edu or 651-523-2100.

18. Emergencies:

Please call Hamline Public Safety at 651-523-2100 or 911 immediately to report any cases of fire, smoke, suspected criminal activity involving imminent harm, or other emergencies. You agree that any security measures taken by the University shall not be considered an expressed or implied warranty of security or as a guarantee against crime or of reduced risk of crime. Unless otherwise provided by law, the University shall not be liable to you or any other resident or guest for injury, damage, or loss to persons or property caused by criminal conduct of other persons, including theft, burglary, assault, vandalism, or other crimes. If you are affected by a crime, you are strongly encouraged to report the incident to the university and to law enforcement.

19. General Safety Requirements:

You agree to exercise due care for your own safety and the safety of other residents, including in the use of smoke detectors, door locks, window latches, and other security devices and in the event of severe weather. Apartment/room/house doors and first floor and basement windows must be locked securely when you are absent from the premises. You agree not to facilitate a person's access to the building if that person is not a known guest of the resident (see guest policy for further details).

20. Handbooks/Posted Policies:

In addition to complying with the terms of this contract, you also agree to follow all policies and procedures in the Hamline University Residential Life Handbook, the Hamline Conduct Code, and Hamline University Policies, which are available at: www.hamline.edu/policies. You also agree to comply with and follow any reasonable policies or directives posted or otherwise distributed to residents and students. Hamline may change, add or modify these policies at any time. Periodic newsletters and/or flyers, which will be distributed to residents, will contain important policy information and will be considered adequate notification of new policies or changes in existing policies. Emails sent to the resident distribution list utilizing University email addresses will also be considered adequate notification of new policies or changes in existing policies. You may be subject to consequences for violating the terms of this contract or these policies, including cancellation of this contract, Hamline University Residential Life handbook, or Hamline University Conduct Codes, and may be subject to disciplinary action including immediate interim suspension from the residence halls, apartments, or houses.

21. Emergency Closure of University Housing:

The University reserves the right to, in its discretion, close, suspend or alter all or parts of its campus, including University housing, or to cancel or curtail services, including meal services, if it believes that the closure is necessary or advisable to protect the safety, health or well-being of students, residents, staff and/or the community, including, but not limited to, in the event of (i) war; (ii) natural disasters; (iii) credible threats or acts of civil disobedience, terrorism or similar acts; (iv) public health events, including epidemics and pandemics; (v) federal, state or local government advisories recommending persons self-quarantine, shelter-in-place, not travel or avoid assemblies; (vi) actual or anticipated curtailment or interruption of transportation facilities; (vii) civil disturbance; (viii) peacetime emergencies or disaster declarations; or (ix) any similar causes or act of God. If the University elects to close University housing, temporarily or for the duration of the school year, you agree to vacate University housing as directed. The University will attempt to provide advance notice of any closures as reasonable under the circumstances but is not required to provide advance notice in emergency circumstances. The University may allow individual residents to remain in housing during such a closure on a case-by-case basis, such as if a resident is unable to travel to their permanent residence. The University's decision to allow other residents to remain on campus does not grant you a similar right to remain in the event of a closure. You agree that if you are required to vacate University housing, temporarily or otherwise, or if any services are canceled or curtailed, under this provision you will remain responsible for paying all remaining amounts due under this contract and you will not receive any refund of amounts previously paid.

22. Waiver:

No failure or delay by the University in exercising any right under this contract shall constitute a waiver of that right. Exercise by the University of any remedy after the occurrence of an event of default shall not be construed to be an election of remedies and shall not preclude the University from exercising any other remedies it may have, either simultaneously or consecutively.

23. Attorney Fees:

If you breach or fail to follow any of the terms of this contract, you agree to pay all costs and expenses, including attorney fees, incurred by the University enforcing its rights, including an eviction, or collecting amounts owed by you under this contract, regardless of whether litigation or other formal proceedings are commenced, and including all costs and expenses, including attorney fees, incurred enforcing any judgments entered by a court.

HAMLIN UNIVERSITY
MEAL SERVICES INFORMATION

2025 - 2026

ALL STUDENTS LIVING IN A RESIDENCE HALL ARE REQUIRED TO BE ON A MEAL PLAN. Meal plans for apartment and house residents are optional.

This document supplements the terms and conditions of participation in the University meal services program as described in your Housing and Meal Services Contract and describes current dining options and locations. Those options and locations are subject to change as University needs dictate.

Bishop's Bistro: Our all-you-care-to-eat style bistro is located on the second floor of the Anderson Center. This more traditional university dining outlet offers breakfast, brunch/lunch and dinner. Menu offerings include salad bar, deli, grill, pizza, international as well as traditional options. One meal swipe allows a customer to re-enter as many times as they choose during that visit. The all-you-care-to-eat option creates the best meal value on campus. Bishop's Bistro is closed during some academic break periods. The declining balance portion of the meal plan can be used during this time in retail locations. All food from Bishop's Bistro is to be consumed in the 2nd floor dining room of the Anderson Center. Food is not allowed to be taken out of the dining room.

Starbucks: The convenient first floor Anderson Center location makes it easy to purchase specialty espresso drinks, coffee, pastries, and gourmet sandwiches and snacks.

Leo's Corner C-Store: Located on the first floor of the Anderson Center, the convenience store offers a wide range of grab and go beverages, sandwiches, salads, and snacks. A variety of grocery items are available as well as paper goods, and health and beauty products.

Piper Grill & Café: Located on the second floor of the Anderson Center, this café offers customers a choice of grilled foods, pizza and pastas, as well as a la carte salads and snacks for an evening/late night option.

DECLINING BALANCE DOLLARS

Declining balance dollars work similar to a bank checking account with some significant differences highlighted below. Every time you make a food or meal purchase, the total cost of your purchase is subtracted from the dollar balance in your account.

- All meal plans include some level of declining balance (DB). Additional declining balance may be purchased separately using cash, check, credit card or by charging to your student account.
- Declining balance can be used at any University dining location.

Meal Plan Options

To determine which meal plan is best suited for you, consider your lifestyle preferences. Do you enjoy eating more traditional meals a few times a day or prefer smaller meals or snacks throughout the day? Are you a big breakfast eater or do you find yourself snacking late at night? Will you be off campus for specific times when you would want to take food with you?

Our meal plans are designed with varied proportions of all-you-care-to-eat meals and declining balance dollars. The block portion of each meal plan represents the number of all-you-care-to-eat meals available for use per semester at Bishop's Bistro. Only the owner of the plan can use these meals. Students have the flexibility of using a different number of meals each week. Block meals expire at the end of each semester. The declining balance portion of the meal plan is for use at any of the four dining locations on campus.
